Composer, educator and recording artist Cecilia Smith is among the leading vibraphonists of the four-mallet technique in the United States. Her stunning new collaborative work, "Crossing Bridges - An Inter-Media Work of Music and Visualizations," features music, video and spoken word to explore the rich tapestry of identity and the collective human experience. The evening-length piece is a culmination of Smith's year-long residency at Tri-C, courtesy of a Joyce Award, and includes contributions from Tri-C students and faculty from a diverse array of disciplines.
